A STUDY ON OVERDATED UNITED STATES LARGE CENTS

by John D. Wright, ANA 57735

HOW can such a thing as a coin bearing two different dates happen? Did some mint workman alter all the dies in the presses when January rolled around? Why was the mint too cheap to throw away outdated dies? These and other similar questions come to the mind of nearly everybody as they look at their first overdated coin. In this study we shall try to answer these questions as we examine some of the coins that cause them.

United States large cents have fascinated me for 15 years, early U. S. overdates for five. It is only fitting that the former contains one of the most prolific series of the latter. Of all U. S. series, only the half dollar surpasses the large cent in the number of different overdates, and this by only a small margin. There are 25 true overdates known in the large cent series, as well as two pseudo overdates and scores of varieties that are neither but are regularly offered as overdates. The most misleading of these non-overdates will also be included in this study.

Definition of Terms

Before we can discuss these coins we need to define some terms we shall be using. An "overdate" is a coin bearing two different dates, one superimposed over the other. A "pseudo overdate" is a coin that appears to be an overdate since it has one or more characters superimposed over apparently different characters. However, in this case the underfigures are simply the correct figures upside down, such as the "1809 Over 1806" half cent or the 1851 Over Inverted 18 -- large cent. A "recut date" is a coin whose date appears doubled, either in one figure or in its entirety, as with the 1955 Doubled-Die Lincoln cent. The key here is that the underfigure is the same as the overfigure, even though it may be of a different size or style.

The word "variety" is oftentimes confused with "die". If this confusion were allowed to stand, it would make this study appear to be no more than a mass of contradictions. A "die" represents all coins struck from a given engraved die, while a "variety" represents all coins struck from a given pair of dies. Hence, one obverse die may appear on two or three different varieties if it is mated with two or three different reverse dies. In discussing overdates, the prime concern is with the obverse die, since, although two different reverses mated with one overdated obverse do indeed make two varieties, they still comprise only one overdate. Where a given die is known to have only one mate the terms "die" and "variety" are interchangeable.

Causes of Overdates

In the early days of the mint, dies were cut by hand. Such an amount of work was not to be thrown away simply because of a calendar change. The proliferation of damaged, cracked, and shattered dies that were kept in use until the pieces fell out of the press attest to the "waste not -- want not" operation of our fledgling mint.

Die crack progressions demonstrate that at least three varieties of 1798 cents (S-173, 186, 187) were struck in 1799 after the 1799 Over 1798 had been coined; S-241 of 1802 was struck in 1803 after S-243 of 1803; and S-113, 114, and 115 of 1796 were struck in 1797 after NC5 of 1797. Likewise, S-119 of 1796 appears on the polished Boulton & Watt planchets which did not arrive at the mint until April 1797 and were not used until November of that year.

Mint records show that all 1823 cents were struck in 1824 or later, even though one variety of this date has a normal, unaltered date. These examples and several others demonstrate that the mint was not concerned with bringing a die up to date once it was in use.

This is further borne out by the fact that no overdated large cent is known showing only the underdate. ie: In no instance has a large cent obverse die been cut, dated, used for striking coins, then had another date cut over the existing one and the die used for striking more coins.

Of all known U. S. overdates this practice is known to have occurred only once. Early in 1806 three obverse dies of 1805 (quarter dollar, Browning 4; half dollar, Beistle 6; and quarter eagle, Crosby 1) were re-annealed, altered in the final figure, retempered, and used for striking 1806 Over 1805 coins (quarter dollar, Browning 1; half dollar, Beistle 11; and quarter eagle, Crosby 2). Evidently this practice was deemed more trouble than it was worth, as no other instances are known.

There are no records of how many date alterations were attempted to produce these three "successes", but even these three overdates were only qualified successes, as their rarity indicates that the altered dies did not have a very long life span. The altered quarter die would seem to refute this, as the 1806 Over 1805 is common (as early quarters go), but the rarity of 1805 Browning 4 indicates that this die was practically new when it was altered.

That this "experiment" occurred at the same time that Robert Patterson assumed the position of mint director (17 January 1806) seems too much for coincidence. The new director probably initiated the policy that all dies in use should bear the current date, necessitating the above alterations. That this policy was short-lived is borne out by the relative rarities of 1806 versus 1807 quarters and half dollars, which, when compared with mintage figures, imply strongly that much of the 1807 coinage of these denominations was dated 1806.

The only large cent die altered after use was reverse K of 1801, whose fraction 1/000 was corrected to 1/100 to become reverse G of 1803. This discussion does not consider minor re-engraving and lapping (regrinding) of worn or damaged dies as was so common with the later large cents.

Ordinarily dies for any given year were (and still are) prepared during the preceding fall, replacements being engraved as needed. Early mint practice was to omit the last figure of the date in case the dies were not needed until a later year. This explains the five overdates of 1800 Over 179-, and the one die of 1800 Over 1798, which lay unused for two years. Later discussion will show that all these dies originated in 1798.

Sometimes, when the engraver expected the die to be used before the year was out he would punch the entire date and set the die aside for tempering (a hardening process) when needed. If the die was not needed until a later year and had not yet been tempered a new figure could be punched over the old. As stated above, this was not always done and the die might be used "as is". If a die with a complete date were corrected, a strong overdate would result, such as the first 1798 Over 1797 (S-151).

This does not imply that all strong overdates were the result of this process. Some undoubtedly resulted from the same source, as the weaker overdates. In this case, an apprentice engraver, rarely more than a semi-educated boy, would be assigned to punch in the letter or number characters on an unfinished die. If he punched in the wrong character he corrected it the best he could.

Such a process accounts for the 1796 LIBERTY (S-103, 104) cent in which the B was first punched inverted; the 1801 "Three Error" (S-218, 219) cent which suffered the same fate in the U of UNITED; the 1797 "M Over E" (S-128, 129) cent which has an E under the M of AMERICA; the 1801 "Corrected Fraction" (S-221) cent which shows a 1 cut over the erroneous first cipher; and doubtless many of the overdates.

An interesting note on such errors concerns the 1/000 cents. Even though these appear in three different years (1801, 1802, 1803), all of the five dies known with this error originated in 1801. Since no such dies were cut either before or after this year it is very likely that they were all the product of one apprentice engraver's bungling.

Description and Rarity

Of equal interest to the origin of an overdate is its appearance and rarity. The illustrations on the following pages are sufficient to uniquely differentiate each die in this study from any other die of the year. Carefully note the shape and spacing of the date characters and their relationship to the bust, hair, curl, and denticles or rim.

Where one overdate comes with two or more reverse dies a few salient features of each reverse are given as an aid to attributing the variety. Leaves and berries are counted upward from the wreath bow on cents of 1793-1807 (two-branched wreath) and clockwise from the bow on cents after 1807 (single-branched wreath). No reverse descriptions are given for overdates that are known with only one reverse die. Stars, where mentioned, are numbered clockwise from the point of the bust. For further study of individual varieties, see Dr. Sheldon's Penny Whimsy and H. R. Newcomb's United States Copper Cents, 1816-1857.

- Rarity 1 — Common
- R2 — Not so Common
- R3 — Scarce
- R4 — Very Scarce (population estimated at 76-200)
- R5 — Rare (31-75)
- R6 — Very Rare (13-30)
- R7 — Extremely Rare (4-12)
- R8 — Unique or Nearly Unique (1, 2, or 3)

Early Recut Dates

While recut dates are not overdates, they are often offered as such by the overzealous, often with some justification. Some overdates are extremely indistinct and many recut dates are easier to see than these true overdates. For this reason, plainly recut dates will also be included in this study.

To raise a strong date on the struck coins, a die required a deep impression from the date punches. With only hand-power, this required several blows, and any movement of the punch between blows would result in a doubled image, commonly referred to as a "recut date". (Actually, "repunched date" would be a more accurate term, but "recut" and "re-engraved" have been used for over a century to describe this phenomenon.) Under these conditions it is amazing that such a small number of the early cents have recut dates.

Two of the most notable exceptions are the 1794 "Fallen 4" (S-63) and the 1796 "Doubled 6" (S-105), both of which are shown below. The "Fallen 4" is Scarce and the "Doubled 6" is Very Rare.

1798 Over 1797

There are two overdates of this year, with three varieties. The first overdated U. S. large cent (S-151, 150) follows the first overdated U. S. coin of any denomination by only two years (the 1796 Over 1795 half eagle, Breen 1; and the excessively rare 1796 Over 1795 half dime, Valentine 2). Both 1798 overdated cents have Style I hair (see 1800 Overdates) and large 8 in the date. Neither of these two dies appear on 1797 coinage, even though the 7 is quite strong under the 8 on S-151.

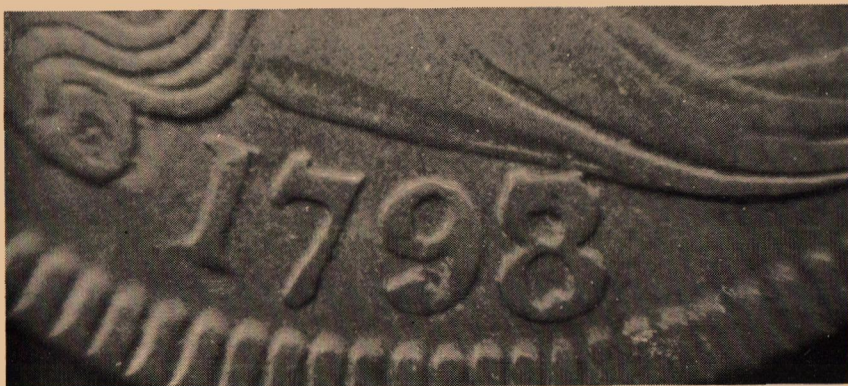

Although S-150 and S-151 are from the same obverse die the tail of the 7 is much stronger inside the lower loop of the 8 on S-151 than on S-150. The presence of die defects behind the head on S-151 while these defects are lacking on S-150 would seem to imply that the S-150 was struck first. However, the S-151 could easily have been the first marriage of this die — if the die were lapped between this and the S-150 marriage. Such an action would not only remove the marks behind the head, but would also weaken the undercut 7, as is actually the case. It would seem that this obverse first appeared with reverse G (S-151), was lapped before its marriage to reverse F (S-150), and the 6F (S-149, a non-overdate) marriage occurred during the interim.

The reverse of S-151 has the 1 of the denominator entirely to the left of the fraction bar, and the first inside pair of leaves on the right crosses the T of CENT at the tip of its serif. The S-150 reverse has a longer fraction bar with tapered ends, and the leaf pair crosses the T of CENT at the right edge of its upright.

S-151. 1798 Over 1797.

The most obvious feature of any 1798 overdate is the serif of the 7, which appears at the eleven o'clock position outside the overcut 8. On a worn S-152 this is the only feature that will show. A worn S-150 gives the impression of an 8 with cat-ears. The tail of the 7 inside the lower loop of the 8 on S-150 and S-152 usually will not show on coins much less than Fine. For these reasons S-152 is often offered as a normal, Large Date 1798. The S-150 is rare enough that this problem has little chance to come up. As shown above, S-151 leaves no doubt to its identity.

The S-151, 150 is by far the scarcer of the two overdates of this year. Eleven years ago Sheldon listed S-151 at Rarity 4, S-150 at R5, and S-152 at R3, but the difference in rarity of these two overdates now appears to be greater than these figures indicate. The S-152 is probably no more than upper R2, and S-150 is in the upper reaches of R5, nearly R6. I could find records of only two auction sales of S-150 between 1961 and 1967.

Other 1798's often offered as overdates include the S-148 "Horned 9" variety and the S-167 Large Date. A few dealers make much over the spike on the knob of the 9 on one variety or another. This spike is common to almost all 9's throughout the entire large cent series.

S-152. 1798 Over 1797.

Not an Overdate. S-148. "Horned 9."

Not an Overdate. S-167 with die break.

The "Horned 9" has an additional point on the back of the 9, but need not fool anyone, as the final 8 is perfect. Mislabeling of this variety can only be attributed to zeal outstripping knowledge and common sense. The S-167, with the die broken through the final 8, is more misleading. On some specimens this break is easily mistaken for the upright of a 7. This die also has the large 8, as with the overdates, but the hair is Style II (see 1800 Overdates), and there is no serif showing at the eleven o'clock position of the 8. Both S-148 and S-167 are Common, although either variety could be as much as R2.

1799 Over 1798

This overdate, prepared from an unused 1798 die, was struck in 1799 along with probably the last 20 varieties of 1798. Sometimes, as with this die, the engraver stamped new dates over old on unused dies. More often the coiner could not wait for even this simple operation and merely snatched up whatever old dies were at hand in even briefly useable condition, not bothering to change the dates.

This overdate is usually found on smooth, clean planchets, while the 1799 Normal Date is invariably found on the rough, black Coltman Bros. planchets. Usually the bottom of the date is worn into the rim, as there was little or no milling to protect the numerals. This is generally true of all 1799s, even more so on the Normal Date than on the Overdate.

The reverse of the 1799 Overdate does not have the well-known "mint chip" between the E of ONE and T of CENT, which is usually seen on the 1799 Normal Date (S-189). The final 9 is well separated from the first 9 and is slightly high. The Normal Date has both 9s close and nearly on the same level. The final 9 has a squared appearance on the Overdate, unlike the Normal Date. The underfigure is a small 8, as on the later 1798s. This feature does not usually show on a coin below the grade of Fine. Generally, a strong VG coin is needed to see any traces of the underfigure.

The reverse of S-188 (reverse GG of 1798) has the third outside and the second inside pair of leaves on the left stemless and the outside pair of leaves under the T of CENT overlapping the wreath stem. The reverse of NC1 (reverse W of 1798) shows all leaf pairs to have stems and both pairs of leaves under T of CENT to be free from the wreath stem.

The 1799 Overdate is probably correctly listed at Rarity 5 with reverse GG (S-188). With reverse W (NC1) this overdate is semi-unique. Both specimens (conditions VF-20 and VG-7) are in collectors' hands.

1800 Overdates

Since five of the six overdates (ten varieties) of this year have Style II hair, their origin dates from mid-1798 or later, as this hair style was not introduced until well into 1798. Since these same five dies show no figure inside the final cipher, they were undoubtedly prepared in the fall of 1798 for use in 1799, as dies prepared in the fall of 1799 would show the unfinished date as 180-.

This same practice shows up in the cent dies prepared in the fall of 1800, which were used in 1801 with a blunt 1 punch filling out the incomplete date. These six dies (obverses 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 11 of 1801) show the first 1 of the date pointed, as on the 1800 dies, and the final 1 blunt, as on the 1802-1803 dies.

Style I Hair.

Style II Hair.

Only the 1800 Over 1798 shows any trace of a fourth date digit having been on the die. This die has Style I hair and dates from before the introduction of the hub with Style II hair in mid-1798. Since the underdate 1798 shows in its entirety, this die undoubtedly was not made until that year. Had it been prepared in 1797, the underdate would be either 1797 or 179-.

From the above reasoning, it is obvious that all 1800 overdated dies were prepared in 1798. That they were not used until 1800 is probably due to the great number of 1798 dies that were still useable in 1799. Cents of 1800, as with the 1799 Normal Date (struck in December, 1799, after the exhaustion of the Boulton & Watt planchets), were struck on very soft planchets and are usually found dark and well worn.

S-190, 191, NC5 is the 1800 Over 1798. It is easily distinguished by its Style I hair. One of the American Numismatic Society specimens of S-191 is struck over an 1800 Normal Date cent, proving the obvious point that overdates are not necessarily always the first coins struck for any given year. This die is the only collectible 1800 overdate that does not have a strong 9 inside the first cipher. Generally, a strong VG specimen is required to see any traces of the underfigures inside the ciphers. For this reason, low grade specimens of this overdate are often offered as "1800 Normal Date".

At last writing, Sheldon listed the S-190 at Rarity 5 and the S-191 at R2, but they appear to be of about equal scarcity. Probably both are lower R3s or upper R2s. The NC5 is presently known by only one VG specimen, but publication may flush more out of hiding.

The reverse of S-190 has the final A of AMERICA recut on its left side, a long fraction bar, and a normally-shaped C in CENT. The reverse of S-191 has the second berry on the left stemless, a long fraction bar, a normal C, and usually shows evidences of catastrophic die failure all over, notably at the bottom, center, and left. The reverse of NC5 has the C of CENT open, ending in a flat curve below, a down-pointing spike from its top (similar to the reverse of S-211), a short fraction bar which does not extend to the final O, and a rim break covering the tops of AME in AMERICA.

S-192, 193. 1800 Over 179-.

S-192, 193 is the so-called "1800 Over 1799". Perhaps the reason for the original cataloguer's zeal was the tiny triangular chip out of the die seen on a few specimens inside the final cipher. This chip rarely shows on coins less than Fine. This die is the most obvious of the 1800 overdates, and by a small margin is the rarest of the collectible overdates of this year. The last published census listed S-192 at Rarity 4 and S-193 at R5. From frequency of appearance at auction and from a more recent survey, both varieties now appear to be upper R3.

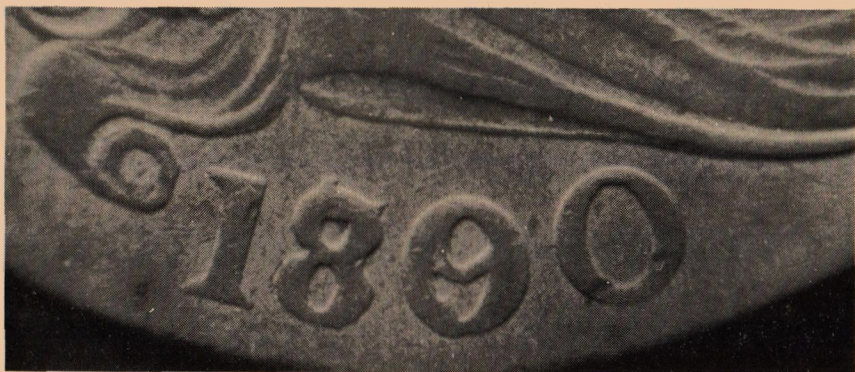

The reverse of S-192 has a downward-sloping fraction bar, stems on all leaf pairs, and no lower serif on the E of STATES, while the reverse of S-193 shows serifs on all letters, a level fraction bar, and the lowest inside leaf pair on the right stemless.

S-194, 195. 1800 Over 179-.

S-194, 195 is another of the 1800 Over 179- dies. Both points of the undercut 7 show minutely above the 8. The largest trace of this underfigure is the crossbar, seen strongly inside the upper loop of the 8. The tail of the 7 shows at the bottom more clearly than on any other 1800 overdate. The 9 is strong in the first cipher and the final cipher leans left. The 1958 edition of Penny Whimsy lists S-194 at Rarity 3, which is still the current "best guess." The S-195 is listed at upper R6. Lower R6 seems more correct from the number appearing in sales. At least five specimens of S-195 have appeared in auction sales between 1961 and 1967.

The reverse of S-194 has a heavy fraction bar and the 1 in 100 leaning right, while the reverse of S-195 has a thin fraction bar, all denominator figures upright, and the lowest inside berry on the right noticeably smaller and weaker than the others.

S-196. 1800 Over 179-.

S-196 is the most common 1800 Over 179-. This die is listed as the "Wide Overdate", although the "Overdate with First Cipher Low" might be a more accurate description. An imaginary arc line drawn across the bottoms of the date characters identifies this die quickly. This variety is one of the most common 1800 cents.

NC1 of 1800. 1800 Over 179-.

NC1 of 1800 is the rarest of all 1800 overdates. It is an 1800 Over 179-, but the die was ground down quite effectively before it was overdated and the 9 shows only very faintly inside the first cipher. The serif of the undercut 7 shows at the eleven o'clock position of the 8 as on all other 1800 overdates and both 1798 overdates. The top loop of the 8 is flat inside and the right point of the 7 shows minutely, as on the S-194, 195.

This variety is apparently unique, the only specimen positively known residing in the collection of the American Numismatic Society. Breen reported a second specimen somewhere in the New England area in 1957, but Sheldon evidently never saw it and it was listed as only "rumored" in Penny Whimsy. As of 1968 Sheldon still knows of only one specimen and Breen now has no record of the whereabouts of the second one. The ANS coin is VG and the rumored second specimen was reported as just shy of Good.

NC2 of 1800. 1800 Over 179-.

NC2 of 1800 is the last listing of the 1800 Over 179- overdates. Both points of the undercut 7 show plainly above the 8, but not so plainly as on the 1800 Over 1798 or the so-called "1800 Over 1799". The loop of the 9 inside the first cipher is not as strong as that seen on the collectible varieties of 1800 Over 179-, but is considerably stronger than the 9 on NC1 and the 1800 Over 1798. The undercut 9 is farther to the right than on the other overdates. The loop of the 9 joins the inside of the cipher at the eleven o'clock position rather than at nine o'clock to nine-thirty as on the others. This variety is always seen with a vertical die crack from opposite the point of the bust and extending upwards for about a centimeter. This develops into a rim break on one specimen.

No new examples of NC2 have turned up since Penny Whimsy. In fact, the number of traceable specimens decreased when the ANS specimen disappeared. All of the four known specimens of this variety (counting the missing ANS coin) fall between Good and Fine.

Not an Overdate. S-197. "Q Variety."

S-197 is often offered as an overdate as it shows strong traces inside the first cipher which are mistaken for an undercut 9. This is the famous "Q variety", and the traces inside the first cipher are no more than damage to the die. This die is easy to distinguish from any of the overdates of the year by noting three features: (1) On VG specimens or better the Q-break can be seen extending from the right side of the first cipher to the rim under the final cipher. (2) There is no trace of a 7 under the 8. All of the overdates of this year show the serif of the 7, as on the 1798 Over 1797s. (3) The top of the 1 is extremely close to the curl on the Q variety. On all 1800 overdates the 1 is either noticeably farther from the curl or is placed differently. The Q variety is the most common 1800 cent and although it shares the same reverse with NC2 it is not an overdate.

The overdates of 1800 can be broken into three classes rather easily: (1) The "1800 Over 1798" has Style I hair. (2) The "collectibles Over 179-" have Style II hair and a strong 9 inside the first cipher. (3) The "non-collectibles Over 179-" have Style II hair, a 7 showing under the 8, and a weak figure inside the first cipher only.

The plate of the 1800 Over 1798 in the Guide Book is in error. The variety illustrated in all editions since the 13th (1960) is S-192, one of the 1800 Over 179- varieties. Prior to this the correct 1800 Over 1798 was illustrated, although the first five editions (through 1953) illustrated the same die twice, calling it both 1800 Over 1798 and 1800 Over 179-.

1805

There are no cent overdates of 1805. However, S-267 of this year has the 5 widely recut on the right side and above. By the time of this die's marriage to reverse B, successive lapping of the die had removed these traces. Hence S-268, although from the same obverse die as S-267, does not show the recutting. Such minor cosmetic care of dies has always been standard practice at the mint.

Not an Overdate. S-267 with recut 5.

The recutting on the 5 supposedly shows only on Fine specimens. Actually, the presence and the sharpness of the recutting is more a product of the die state than of condition of a particular coin. I have seen one specimen, little more than Good, which shows the doubled 5 more plainly than the vast majority of the VF's and XF's seen. This specimen is of the earliest die state and owes the sharpness of the recutting to that fact.

Sheldon 267 is very Common in all grades. Probably seventy percent of 1805 cents are this variety. Even though S-267 is usually seen with the recutting weak or absent, specimens showing the recutting plainly are in sufficient supply and can be classed as no more than Common. This is not an overdate.

Background of the 1807 Over 1806

Since only four large cent dies prepared between 1801 and 1807 have a pointed 1 in the date, it would seem that these dies have a common origin. However, the 1803 Large Date (S-264, 265) does not fit into the pattern of the other three pointed-1 dies. This die has a large, different style of 3 and its date characters do not match any other cent die of the period. A set of half dollar date punches was apparently used on this die as the date characters appear to match those on the 1803 "Large 3" half dollar.

The other three pointed-1 dies appear to be from the same set of date punches used originally for 1805 and 1806 half eagles. These could easily have been cut together in 1805 as the following hypothetical reconstruction shows.

During the fall of 1805 three large cent dies were prepared with pointed-1 and without the final date digit. One of these (S-269) was completed with a 5, tempered, and put to use. Early in 1806 the remaining figure was punched into the other two dies and one (S-270) was tempered and put to work. With cents rolling out at a rapid pace, another 1806 cent die was cut with complete date (and the usual blunt 1: S-272) in anticipation of a large production of cents for that year. In April the cent press broke down. This last fact has been documented.

The mint had five presses at the time, only one of which was being used for cent coinage. The failure of this machine explains not only the overdates of 1807 Over 1806, but also the relative scarcity of cents dated 1806.

The press that broke down was probably the same one that had, in earlier service, struck New Jersey coppers, since this was the oldest press in service at the time. This press was made around 1786 for use at the Rahway, N. J., Mint. It was used there from 1786 to 1788, when the legal coinage of states' coppers ceased, then was moved to Elizabethtown for the clandestine overstriking of assorted halfpence, Connecticut, etc., with other New Jersey dies in 1789 and 1790. This was apparently a profitable operation as N. J. coppers circulated at a premium over other coppers of the period. In June of 1794, Hannah Ogden, the coiner's widow, sold the press to the Philadelphia Mint for $47.44. Of the other four presses in use in 1806, three dated from 1792 and one from 1795.

1807 Over 1806

With the breakdown of the cent press in April, 1806, cent production came to a premature halt, leaving two completed but untempered cent dies dated 1806. The press was apparently out of commission for the rest of the year, as the next delivery of newly-coined cents was on 20 January, 1907. Early in 1807 the two untempered 1806 cent dies were lapped (enough to weaken the 6, but not enough to erase it, as the 6 was a deep, intentional punch) and a 7 was punched over the remaining traces of the 6. These dies were in turn tempered and put to use.

S-272 is the "1807 Over 1806 with Small 7", or the "1807 Small Overdate". The 1 is blunt and the 7 is of normal size in relation to the other figures. The date is moderately widely spaced with the 7 farther from the 0 than on any other 1807 cent. The top of the date follows a smooth curve, and the top of the 1 has the serif broken off and is extremely close to the hair above. The upright of the 1 nearly touches the curl. The 7 does not extend below the 6, and the left edge of the 6 comes up to the inside of the serif on the overcut 7.

This variety is Very Rare due to early failure of the obverse die and consistently brings far over Guide Book valuation when it is infrequently offered at auction. I had never seen a specimen until a few years ago, but a number have apparently come onto the market recently. In the last three years I have seen four specimens offered in over-the-counter sales (one in Miami, one in New York, and two in Milwaukee), all around a commercial Fine and all genuine. Only one of these was priced commensurate with auction records for this variety — about double Guide Book. The other three were unwittingly bargain-priced at “full Red Book”.

There are probably about twenty specimens of the Small Overdate around, possibly a few more. No notable discoveries have been made of this variety since Penny Whimsy was published.

S-273 is the “1807 Over 1806 with Large 7”, or the “1807 Large Overdate”. This variety shares the same reverse with S-271 (Comet variety) and S-272 (the Small Overdate) and die break progression shows that it was struck after both of these varieties.

S-273. 1807 Large Overdate.

On the S-273 the 1 is pointed, as on the last 1805 and the 1806 die, indicating a very strong possibility of contemporary origin (ie: 1805). The top of the 1 is moderately spaced from the hair, and the upright of the 1 is well separated from the curl. The 1 is slightly recut at top right.

The undercut 6 has been ground away more effectively on this die than on S-272 and shows only as a narrow curved line. The 7 is larger than the other figures, is misshapen and recut on the right side. From the little of the undercut 7 that shows it appears that the original 7 was smaller than the final overcut figure. The top of the 7 extends well above the arc line of the tops of 180 and its tail extends below the undercut 6. The left side of the 6 comes up to the center of the crossbar of the 7. Sheldon states that neither point of the 7 touches the drapery on this variety and that both touch on S-272. A study of the illustrations will show how small this difference is and will point out the other obvious differences.

This variety (S-273) is extremely Common. It commands a slight premium as an overdate, but is very easy to find in nice condition and makes an impressive overdate for the budget-minded collector.

Numismatic Vignettes

• A friend says that this column is slipping in interest because I devote some space to the meanings and use of words. I do appreciate his candid expression, the more so because so few of my readers take time to let me in on their attitudes. Undoubtedly my frank friend is not alone in his assessment.

Stewart Alsop, who wrote articles (a mind-boggling mass of verbiage, he says) for the now defunct Saturday Evening Post and held two editorships on its staff, recently wrote a "Requiem For The Post." In it he conceded that the written word is losing out to television. "The decay of the written word, of which the Post's death is a symbol, is surely a tragedy, . . ." He referred to the late Martin Sommers, editor of the Post, as "a great professional word man - he loved words, and he loved to see them used well."

Yes, fashions, tastes and tides continue to change; but few innovations have so quickly changed so many aspects of our lives as TV has. You can sit in an easy chair and see about anything anywhere - except the back side of the moon. Seeing, talking and listening are pushing writing and reading into the limbo.

Speaking of changes, I read that Manhattan's Copacabana has discontinued its chorus line. One reason given is that glamor isn't so hard to find nowadays with gorgeous beauties on television shows and even featured in the commercials. "And," said one of the ex-chorines, "you can see more girls just watching them walk along Broadway." Or, she might have added, along Main Street.

• Ah, youth! A young numismatist, posing some questions to me in a letter recently, mentioned a couple of publications of the 1870s and that an uncirculated chain cent was advertised for $22.00. Said he, "I wish I could buy at those prices now!" But did he look at the other side of the coin and consider the improbability of a lad of a century ago having $22 for the purchase of a cent?

• On a TV show the other evening a popular songstress sang a song with the tag line "Too many dollars and not enough cents." Surely that does not apply to any numismatists but it does remind me of a few other people in the world.

• Incongruity! The 1966 Irish ten-shilling commemorative, struck by the British government's Royal Mint, depicts Patrick Pearse who was hanged by the British government for treason against it. - Glenn S.

The Five Negro Registers of the U.S. Treasury

by Anne Mullen, ANA Editorial Staff

WHITE AMERICA has, in the past, ignored the Negro and his accomplishments in its history books, magazines, newspapers, bibliographies and biographies. 1968 however, marked this realization on the pages of all its publications, many of which carried series or large features on important Negroes or Negro history, making use of the vast amount of formerly unused information.

In recognizing the importance of this awareness, this article notes some high-ranking Negroes in the U. S. Treasury Department's history, specifically, five registers of the Treasury, four of whose signatures appear on U. S. currency.

The five men were: Blanche K. Bruce (1841-1898), who served as register of the Treasury 1881-1885; Judson W. Lyons (1860-1924), register 1898-1906; William T. Vernon (1871-1944), register 1906-1911; James C. Napier (1848-1940), register 1911-1913; and Louis B. Toomer (1894-1961), register 1953-1956.

Two were lawyers and the others' occupations were U. S. senator, bishop and banker. Noteworthy is the fact that all five were Republican and served in Republican administrations.

Functions of the register during the issuance of large notes, according to the Treasury Department were as follows:

"To receive from official agencies all bonds and other public debt securities, both bearer and registered, including collateral issue of interest coupons, representing principal and interest of the public debt when paid and canceled, or otherwise canceled and retired or voided, for any purpose whatever; to audit, hold in custody, and make disposition thereof; to record all bearer securities and other contiguous coupons prepared for issue and all such securities and coupons retired, and to record registered bonds issued and retired; to certify to the comptroller general of the United States the clearance of the public debt disbursement of the treasurer of the United States for all redeemed securities whether paid by the treasurer direct or through the Federal Reserve Banks and charged against the treasurer's account."

All notes bear the engraved facsimile of signatures of two Treasury officials except for the first two issues of fractional currency. An exception was the Demand Notes of 1861, on which signatures are those of Treasury employees signing for the officials.

For the series of 1862 through the series of 1923, the signature of the register appeared with that of the treasurer of the U. S. on U. S. currency. During this period, four of the total 17 registers of the Treasury were Negroes — Bruce, Lyons, Vernon and Napier.

On all small size notes and on the large Federal Reserve Notes of 1914, the register's name no longer appears but is replaced by the signature of the secretary of the Treasury, the highest official of the department. Today, the secretary's signature is on all currency, alongside that of the treasurer.

The existence of the five Negro registers is little known, shown by the fact that of the few books containing related information, the registers are sometimes referred to as "secretary" or "registrar" of the Treasury, and Louis B. Toomer was referred to as "the first Negro register of the Treasury," in some newspapers, when in fact he was the fifth.

The first Negro in the position and also the best known of the five was Blanche Kelso Bruce. His and following biographical sketches were put together from bits and pieces in books and Treasury and university records.

Blanche K. Bruce

Referred to by some as the most astute political leader the Negro ever had, Bruce became the first man of his race to serve a full term in the Senate of the United States.

Born a slave in Farmville, Prince Edward County, Va., March 1, 1841, he was tutored by his master's son. While still very young, during the Civil War, he and his parents left their master and moved to Missouri where he received his early formal education. There he progressed rapidly, reading books and newspapers, working in a printing office, then serving as a teacher in Hannibal, Mo. In 1866 he went to Oberlin College, where he was given special training in elective subjects, such as mathematics, rhetoric and logic, but the next year he was on a boat plying between St. Louis and Council Bluffs. In 1868 he made a permanent move to Mississippi. Settling in Floreyville in Bolivar County, he became a planter and in time accumulated a substantial amount of property. At the age of 27 he entered upon his larger career.

Blanche K. Bruce

Bolivar County in 1868 was in large danger from floods, since it faces the Mississippi River at the point where the Arkansas River enters. Bruce immediately became interested in the problems of the section, including those affecting the levees.

Bruce entered the political arena when he received an appointment as conductor of elections for Tallahatchie County from Gen. Adelbert Ames, military governor, shortly after his arrival in Mississippi. His broad shoulders, erect bearing, and shrewdness in judgment forced respect, while his upright dealing raised him in the esteem of those around him.

In 1870 he was elected sergeant at arms in the State Senate, and thus enlarged his circle of acquaintances. The following year he was appointed assessor of taxes in Bolivar County and from 1872 to 1875 he served as sheriff and tax collector of that county, and also served as county superintendent of schools and on the Mississippi Levee Board.

Following the National Republican Convention in 1872, James Hill, at the time the most powerful Negro leader in Mississippi, expressed his determination to put Bruce in the Senate. During the next three years, there was a quiet but strong campaign going, with the Floreyville Star building sentiment for the election of a Negro senator and suggesting Blanche K. Bruce.

White and black Republicans held separate, then joint legislature caucuses. The Negroes stood firmly for Bruce, and in due time he was elected. A total of 16 Negroes served in Congress between 1864 and 1880.

When a new senator was sworn in, it was customary for the senior member from his state to accompany him to the desk. When the name of Bruce was called on March 4, 1875, the one responsible was busy. As the new member started to the desk alone, one of the most prominent men in the Senate, Roscoe Conkling of New York, stepped forward, introduced himself and escorted Bruce. Conkling later asked the new senator if anyone was looking out for his interests, and saw to it that he was placed on several committees.

Bruce soon made his presence felt in the capital city as a member of the Committees on Manufactures, Education and Labor, Pensions and the Improvement of the Mississippi River and its Tributaries. On the last committee no one surpassed his expert knowledge and in general he impressed his colleagues by his industry and wisdom. Occasionally, he presided over the Senate.

Enlightened liberalism was the general course of Bruce in the Senate. He took a courageous position in support of minority groups both in committee meetings and in debates from the floor, opposing the exclusion of the Chinese and the harsh attitude of the government toward the Indians. He fought for the civil rights of Negroes and the maintenance of order in the Southern states, investigated election frauds, worked for the improvement of navigation on the Mississippi River so to increase interstate and foreign commerce, helped protect investors and even supported a bill aimed at the elimination of government reprisals against those who had opposed the emancipation of the Negro.

In the middle of his term in the Senate, June 24, 1878, his marriage to Josephine B. Wilson of Cleveland, Ohio, was a brilliant social event, and the couple followed the wedding with a tour of Europe. They had one child, a boy, and named him after his father's first friend in the Senate, Roscoe Conkling.

On May 19, 1881, just a few weeks after the close of his term as senator, Bruce was appointed register of the Treasury by President Garfield and he served in the office for four years.

Under President Cleveland's two terms, Bruce was out of office. However, he was in charge of the Negro exhibit at the World's Cotton Exposition in New Orleans in 1884, gave lectures and was a trustee of Howard University. Under President Harrison, he was recorder of deeds for two years for the District of Columbia. On Dec. 2, 1897, he was appointed by President McKinley as register of the Treasury for a second term, but died at his home in Washington, D. C., shortly thereafter, March 17, 1898. Throughout his career, Bruce was known as a great statesman.

Judson W. Lyons

The next Negro register of the Treasury was also an active Republican.

Judson Whitlocke Lyons was born Aug. 15, 1860, in Burke County, Ga. He taught in the schools of South Carolina and Georgia while attending the Augusta Institute (later called the Baptist College of Atlanta and now Morehouse College). Becoming active in politics, in 1880 he was the youngest member sent to the Republican National Convention and was a delegate to the subsequent conventions through 1904.

After graduating from Howard University Law School with an LL.D. in 1884, he was admitted to the Bar and began practicing law in Augusta, Ga. President McKinley appointed him register of the U. S. Treasury in 1898 and he held this position until 1906, for a total of 7 years, 2 months and 23 days. Later he was president as well as trustee of Haines Normal Institute of Augusta, and a member of the Republican National Committee for Georgia.

Jane Hope, sister of Dr. John Hope, the educator, became his wife in 1890; they had a son and three daughters. He died June 22, 1924.

William T. Vernon

The third Negro register of the Treasury was Bishop William Tecumseh Vernon, who obtained office when new opportunities were given to Negroes.

Born in Lebanon, Mo., July 11, 1871, Vernon was the son of Adam and Margaret (Hooker) Vernon. He attended Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo., 1886-1890, and received a bachelor of science degree. He also studied at Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio, and received LL.D. and honorary DD degrees. He then taught in public schools, but in 1896 joined the Missouri Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church and was assigned to the presidency of Western University of Quindaro, Kan., which is no longer in existence. Aug. 18, 1901, he was married to Emily J. Embry, graduate of Wilberforce University and daughter of Bishop James C. Embry. They had no children.

William T. Vernon

When Vernon became Western's president, the school had one building and about a dozen students. By 1915, it was one of the leading Negro institutions. Its growth was largely due to the efforts of Vernon, who secured  $\frac{1}{4}$  million dollars for the school. He remained its president until 1906, when he was appointed register of the Treasury by President Theodore Roosevelt. While in this position he traveled throughout the country giving lectures and addresses, and had to sign all the paper money of the nation.

Upon resigning from the government position in 1911, he was superintendent of government schools for a while, and worked among the Negroes of the South. In 1912, he became president of Campbell College, now Jackson State College in Jackson, Miss., where conditions improved greatly under his administration (1912-1916). He was pastor of Avery Chapel, Memphis, Tenn., from 1916 to 1920, when he became the 45th elected bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. He is listed as a Mason, Odd Fellow and a Republican in the Who's Who of Colored America.

Bishop Vernon served his church in South Africa, 1920-1925, was suspended in 1932, later restored, and 1936 he retired. He died in 1944 at Quindaro, Kan.

James C. Napier

Following Vernon in the office of register was James Carrol Napier, who was born June 9, 1848, just outside of Nashville, Tenn., of free parents. Young James attended a small pay school for Negro children, set up by his father, a livery stable owner, and others. But the school was shut down on the grounds that it was illegal, when city authorities discovered it.

Educational facilities in the South were extremely rare, so it was fortunate for Napier that his family moved to Ohio. In 1859, Napier began studies in the high school department of Wilberforce University. He continued his education at Oberlin College, remaining there until his junior year, when he left school to accept a position with the U. S. War Department.

While in Washington, D. C., with the job, Napier studied at Howard University and graduated from their law school in 1872. He became the first Negro in the Bureau of the Sixth Auditor, after passing a civil service examination in that same year for the bureau's post of clerk.

He had several promotions and engaged in numerous civic and political activities locally and nationally. He then returned to his hometown as deputy collector of Internal Revenue, and worked for the Internal Revenue Service in positions up to 1884. He lost his position because of the change in administration, with the Democrats assuming power and Grover Cleveland becoming president.

Opening a law practice in Nashville, Napier maintained his strong interest in politics. He was elected in 1905 to the Nashville City Council, and served four terms. He secured the appointment of Negro teachers and construction of new schools, and improved educational conditions in general for Negroes.

The business world was another deep interest of Napier. He was one of the founders of the first Negro bank in Tennessee, the Nashville Penny Savings Bank (now called the Citizen's Savings Bank & Trust Co.), in 1904, and remained associated with it until his death. Accumulating considerable property, he participated in various enterprises launched by other Negro businessmen of the community. He worked closely with his lifelong friend, Booker T. Washington, in the National Negro Business League, and eventually became its president and executive committee chairman. He also was president of the Negro Board of Trade in Nashville and director of the National Institute for Negro Christian Workers.

Napier never gave up his staunch support of Negro education, serving as trustee of four institutions at the same time: Fisk University, Howard University, Walden College and Meharry Medical College. At Meharry, he also lectured on medical jurisprudence.

Before accepting the post of register of the U. S. Treasury in 1911, Napier declined two presidential appointment offers: the post as consul to Brazil offered by President Roosevelt in 1908; and the ministership to Liberia offered by Taft in 1910. Finally accepting Taft's appointment to succeed W. T. Vernon as register, he served the latter part of President Taft's term and almost a year of Wilson's administration. He held the position from March 15, 1911, to Sept. 30, 1913.

Napier's political activities were widespread. A member of the Republican State Executive Committee for nearly 20 years, he was four times delegate to the party's national convention. He was honored, in 1935, with an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Fisk University, a testimonial to the high regard in which he was held. One of the large housing units in Nashville was named "The James Carroll Napier Homes."

Napier's wife, Nettie M. Lanston, was the daughter of John Mercer Lanston, whom Napier had met at Oberlin and who later became congressman from Virginia. The marriage was childless and lasted 60 years, until Mrs. Napier's death in 1938. Two years later on April 21, 1940, Napier himself died.

Louis B. Toomer

Forty years passed between the end of Napier's term and the next Negro register of the Treasury, Louis B. Toomer, appointed in 1953 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Toomer was born April 25, 1894 in Savannah, Georgia, where he was educated in public schools. After being employed by the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in New Haven, Conn., for three years, he entered the real estate business in 1922, the fire insurance business in 1935 and the banking business in 1937. Evidently a businessman through and through, he was the owner of Toomer Real Estate Company Inc. and Toomer Insurance Agency, and also the president of the Carver Savings Bank, Savannah, Ga. Records do not indicate whether he held these positions at the same time or not. At the time of his register's appointment, he was president of the bank.

It is unclear exactly when Toomer entered politics. A lifelong Republican, Toomer was a Georgia delegate to the Republican presidential conventions of 1944, 1948 and 1952. He served as register of the Treasury from 1953 to 1956 and had high praise for his party. He felt that the GOP appreciated the Negro vote and noted that his post had been sought by many Negroes, but not attained, during past Democratic administrations.

In his post, his signature was not on currency, but he headed an organization of about 500 people and was charged with the redemption of registered government securities other than savings bonds. As auditor of the public debt, he was in regular contact with the comptroller general, the federal government's bookkeeper, and assisted him in protecting the government from creditors' claims.

At the age of 62, in December of 1956, Toomer took a 27-year-old bride, the former Mrs. James R. Sheffield, and lived with her in Savannah. He had been a bachelor for the 25 years previous to that. In 1957, he was still president of Carver Savings Bank, but it is uncertain how long after that he was in the position. He died May 14, 1961.

Salaries of the above mentioned men show the rising wages of the country. Lyons, Vernon and Napier, with serving periods ranging from 1898-1913, all received $4,000 annually. Louis B. Toomer received $10,535 as his final annual salary in 1956.

The Treasury Department advises that the office of the register of the Treasury is still in existence and occupied. Walter White, a Pittsburgh, Pa., resident with great interest in Negro history, brought the existence of the above Treasury officials to the attention of the ANA. Credit also goes to James P. Johnson, reference librarian, Howard University; D. M. Merritt, Treasury Department commissioner; and the African Methodist Episcopal Church for the information they supplied.

DESK

Our association has taken great strides forward in recent years towards establishing our headquarters in Colorado Springs with an effective operation and expanding the many services, such as enlarging our library facilities and slide and museum programs. One way to continue and enhance the many operational facets is to establish an effective endowment program.

The machinery for this endowment program has been carefully arranged by Charles Johnson, chairman of the gift and bequest committee. All of us can participate in the plan through gifts to the endowment fund and by remembering our association in our wills.

We are endeavoring to establish a sizeable fund which will guarantee the employment of needed additional personnel to bring and keep our library and museum on a current and effective basis.

Ed Rochette has arranged with Colorado College, on whose campus we are located, to conduct a numismatic seminar during the week of July 14, with room and board available at a modest cost in the fraternity houses on campus. The seminar will consist of numismatic lectures supplemented by visual aids and trips into various historic sites of numismatic nature, in Denver and the surrounding Rocky Mountain area. This should prove to be an exciting and informative week and I hope many of you enroll by writing to our headquarters in Colorado Springs.

The final plans for the ANA's 78th anniversary convention in the Philadelphia Sheraton Hotel are being made. One outstanding attraction this year will be the formal opening of the new U.S. Mint in Philadelphia on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 14. Interesting innovations are being planned for this convention by our hard-working committee. Please send your reservations early to the Sheraton Hotel for this memorable event.

Nominations have been made for the various officers to be elected to serve the association for the next two years, from all sections of the country. Let us each exercise our right to vote by mailing in the marked ballot in the envelope to be provided.

Please remember that the board of governors of the ANA approved at its mid-February meeting, a $1 credit to member clubs for each new ANA member (excluding associate) which that club signs up prior to Aug. 1, 1969. The only requirement is that the club representative must sign the application as one of the sponsors.

The credit may be used towards making the club's next dues payment or in the purchase of medals, ribbons, jewelry or any other items sold by the ANA. Continuation of this program beyond its approved trial period to Aug. 1 will depend upon the outcome of this period.

ANA Nominations Report

The following have been nominated prior to April 27, 1969, for ANA offices for the 1969-1971 term. Further nominations may be made by any member, including affiliated clubs, in good standing, prior to May 28, 1969, subject to current bylaws. Further reports will be published in the June and July issues, but only nominations made by affiliated clubs are published.

Nominations must be sent in writing to the executive director. They will not be acknowledged but the nominee will be notified. Any nominator may submit additional nominations or withdraw any that were made previously if this is done prior to May 28. New nominations made near the closing date should be accompanied by written acceptance of the nominee.

Election will be by mail ballot only and ballots will be mailed to each member about July 1. Each candidate's biographic sketch will be in this issue of The Numismatist and must have been received by April 25, 1969 for inclusion. The ballot envelope must be returned prior to July 12, 1969.

MEET THE CANDIDATES . . . . .

It is not Not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or the critic where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The who counts credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Changeless Change

The most widely used coinage material in the world — an alloy of 75% copper and 25% nickel — is used in more than 270 denominations circulating in 94 countries. The United States has used this alloy for its five-cent piece since 1866.

Although nickel was only isolated as an element 200 years ago, coins minted in Bactria more than 21 centuries ago were similar in composition to our present-day copper-nickel coins.

FEATURING FAKES

DO YOU HAVE THE ORIGINAL?

A brisk business in dark brown, evenly toned 1877 Indian head cents last summer filled a lot of holes in a lot of collections which, until then, had been short that key coin.

The unsuspecting collectors naturally wouldn't clean such beautiful specimens . . . and thus they didn't expose the fact that the final "7" was phony.

Above to your left, and enlarged below, is just one of the many altered date "1877" specimens.

At top, opposite page, the two center coins are two more "1877" altered date jobs. Note the second coin from your left.

That coin we cleaned to photograph. We shot this coin several times, changing the lighting until we were able to show in the photo what the thief had done.

On each of his "1877" coins, he'd started with an 1875, 6, 8, or 9.

Then, beginning below the Indian damsel's throat, he carefully engraved away some of the field, leaving standing the date. Now, with the date standing high, he had enough metal to let him change the coin's last digit into a "7" . . . and he did a very good job of matching the coin's other "7" except that, on the enlarged coin, you'll see his last "7" has a somewhat pregnant look.

He next re-engraved the first three digits . . . "187" . . . and lowered them to the level of his fake final "7."

To hide the fact that he'd lowered the field, he also had to lower the rim from 5:00 to 7:00 o'clock and, further to escape detection, he had to take off a bit of the "A" and "U" which made them appear a bit more worn than the rest of the legend.

You'll see all that workmanship in that second coin's photo, opposite page.

These altered date "1877" cents have appeared at many coin shows. And a lot of dealers don't know they're offering an altered date coin. But they should! Or else they should shower down with enough contributions to the American Numismatic Authentication Trust (ANAT) that ANAT can begin functioning to protect the trusting dealer as well as the collector.

Warning, again, on 1909-S "VDB" and 1955/1955

Please pull your November 1868 issue, page 1451 . . . counterfeit 1909-S "VDB" and 1955 double-hubbed-die USA cents.

These almost-perfect counterfeits are being sold by the thousands!

Until ANAT is ready to serve you, your only safeguard is to insist that the seller give you a receipt describing any individual, identifying feature on the coin you're buying . . . and insist that he write, "I guarantee this 1909-S VDB cent to be genuine." If, in a couple of years from now, you then send the coin to ANAT and learn it's counterfeit, you can recapture your money . . . provided you bought it from an established dealer whom you can locate at such future date.

How many counterfeit 1950-D nickels still are in collections, undetected? 20,000? 30,000? And, some day, will the collectors get back their cash?

Prest-o, change-o!

If I were in law enforcement, I'd have at least a mild curiosity if I saw a man continually advertising to buy 1909-P "VDB" cents . . . but never offering to sell any. And I'd then have a mighty strong curiosity if that same man would offer to sell 1909-S "VDB" cents . . . but never offered to buy any.

I yearn for the good old days before this you-gotta-be-kind-to-criminals era. In the old days, the law enforcement officer could have shaken down a suspect and, before dawn, the suspect would have spilled all details of his operation.

ANAT needs your check

Today, so far as I can see, the dealer and the collector must rely heavily on the hope that ANAT . . . a non-profit but self-sustaining service . . . can be activated. Your club's check . . . and your personal check . . . should be sent now to any one of ANAT's three trustees: John Pittman, 4 Acton St., Rochester, N.Y. 14615; Abe Kosoff, Box 456, Encino, Calif. 91317; Virgil Hancock, Box 936, Bellaire, Texas 77401. If the $50,000 needed to launch ANAT isn't raised, then every cent shall be returned to the donors.

NEW & RECENT ISSUES

by Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Belgium

The coins of Belgium reflect the country's chief internal problem — the language question (French and Flemish), and is officially termed, "the relationship between the two national communities" (the Flemings and the Walloons). The government, faced with continued agitation by extremists from both sides, established a permanent supervisory commission over three years ago. Its only noteworthy accomplishments thus far have been two minor administrative measures — the creation of unilingual identity cards, and the publication of the official Flemish version of the constitution. The coins continue to be issued — two coins, two languages.

Y-67. 10 francs, 1969. Nickel. Obverse: head of King Baudouin to left; designer's name below. Reverse: draped arms with eight flags above, all between value and mintmarks (for Brussels); date below; French (Walloon) legend above, BELGIQUE. Edge plain. 27mm diameter. 7.9 grams weight.

Y-67. 10 francs, 1969. Nickel. Similar to above, but country's name on reverse is in Flemish — BELGIE.

Lebanon

Modern Lebanon came into being in 1920 when France, then occupying Syria and Lebanon, enlarged the former autonomous Ottoman region of Mount Lebanon (which coincided with the Christian region of the Mountain). Lebanon was controlled by the Vichy French after the fall of France, but occupied by British and Free French troops in 1941. The Free French commander, Gen. Georges Catroux, proclaimed the independence of both Lebanon and Syria and troops were withdrawn following the end of World War II. The French influence is still seen in that the language is used in official and commercial circles — thus bilingual coinage.

Y-25. 10 piastres, 1968. Nickel-brass. Obverse: Cedartree with mintmarks (for Paris Mint ?) on each side, a cornucopia and an owl; Arabic and French legends for BANQUE DU LIBAN; Christian date 1968 in French and Arabic numerals between two legends above; Reverse: value in Arabic and French, 10 GUERCH-10 PIASTRES, all between a laurel wreath; a small ornamental design in center below. Edge milled. 21mm diameter.

Y-26. 25 piastres, 1968. Nickel-brass. Obverse: Cedartree, but no mintmarks; Arabic and French legends for the Bank of Lebanon; Christian date 1968 in Arabic and French numerals between the two legends above. Reverse: value in Arabic and French, 25 GUERCH-25 PIASTRES, all between a laurel wreath. The workmanship on this specimen resembles the style of the Sheritt Mint in Canada. Edge milled. 23.5mm diameter.

United Arab Republic (Egypt)

The Koran, in the faith of the Muslim, is the revealed word of God. About the size of the New Testament, it is composed of 114 suras, or chapters, of varying size. The first, entitled "The Opening," is in the form of a short devotional prayer — those who like to make comparisons call it "the Lord's Prayer of the Muslims." It is addressed to God, the remainder of the Koran is in the form of an address from God. The Abbassia Mint in Cairo has struck 10,000 five-pound gold commemorative coins to mark the occasion of the 1400th anniversary of the delivery of the Koran by an angel of God to prophet Mohammed.

Y-127. 5 pounds, 1968. Gold. Obverse: the open Koran in center placed over a globe positioned to show that portion of the world that follows the Muslim religion, scroll work of the original Arabic design flank each side; above the Koran and behind is the rising sun to signify that the book was sent from God as mercy and light to guide the Muslim people in life; in the original Arabic script a legend above translates — We Have Revealed the Koran and We Shall Preserve It. Reverse: within a center circle in the Tholoth way of Arabic writing is the value (Five Pounds) and the Christian and Mohammedan dates (1968 AD and 1388 AH); above in the Koofy script of Arabic the legend reads, United Arab Republic; below, also in Koofy, Fourteen centuries Have Elapsed Since the Revelations of the Sacred Koran. Edge reeded. 33mm diameter. 1.80mm thick. 26 grams weight.

The Token Collector's Page

by Melvin Fuld, ANA 11932

Rescued from Obscurity

In the March issue of The Numismatist, page 313, a random selection of tokens was presented with an appeal for further information on two of the issues. Information, and more information, and then some, was received. One of these, the Wilmans' token of Diaz, Arkansas, brought the greatest returns and the astonishing information of the relationship between one of the former members of the ANA official family and the issuer.

Diaz, Arkansas

Obverse: around WILMANS MERCANTILE COMPANY ARK.; in the center, DIAZ.

Reverse: GOOD FOR / 5¢ / IN MERCHANDISE.

Metal: aluminum. Size: 13.5 (21.4mm). Border: no. 4; edge, no. 1. Issued: 1930s. Rarity: 6.

The owner of this piece wonders if any reader can furnish information on either the company or the town. Sale price for this token was rather high.

AR:50.206.1:CK:24:A1:13.5(21.4 mm):Bd4:Ed1:R:5¢:R6.

From R. S. Choate, ANA 60206
Walnut Ridge, Ark.

Wilmans operated a cotton gin and plantation in addition to Wilmans Mercantile Company, which is possibly still in existence, and produced tokens which came in all denominations from 5¢ to $1. Most of the large plantations in Arkansas used this type of token until the mid-twenties. Reasons were to save bookkeeping and principally, to have better control of credit accounts.

In the spring, usually in March, plantation tenants and other land owners would obtain money from Wilmans by putting a mortgage on crops, livestock or tools. Accounts were set up for farmers to draw from each month, since crops would not be harvested till fall.

Many of the loans to small farmers were for $150, which would have to pay for planting supplies and last six months. A farmer would usually draw $50 to get his tools in shape and buy seed (fertilizer was not used). He would receive the $50 in tokens which he could use at the store and then would draw $20 per month for the next five months. If the harvest was late so he could not start picking cotton by September and his crop looked good enough to justify it, he might draw another month's allowance. These plantation tokens saved the clerks and bookkeepers many entries. The tokens were also traded among tenants and with small firms and occasionally the local bootlegger would accept them.

Cotton ginning was big at one time in Diaz. Wilmans and W. B. Hurley competed for the cotton crops, but Wilmans had the advantage, since one condition of the advance credit was securing the farmer's crop for the gin.

The city of Diaz was also noted for train wrecks due to the odd line set-up. Diaz is located near Jacksonport, a famous and flourishing river port during steamboat days. The Jacksonport businessmen were so satisfied with their port, that they refused to cooperate when the Missouri Pacific wanted to build a railroad through the town. The railroad was therefore built in Newport, causing its rise and the downfall of Jacksonport.

Owners of any of these tokens should write to the author, R. S. Choate, Walnut Ridge, Arkansas 72476, and he will send a complete set of tokens of John K. Gibson, Lauratown, Arkansas, a large operator in the late teens and early twenties. Collectors might be able to obtain complete Wilmans sets by writing to James Wilmans in Diaz, Arkansas 72043.

From Robert Carvell, ANA 58759
Wheatley, Arkansas

Diaz, Arkansas, is a small town located approximately three miles north of Newport in Jackson County. Wilmans Mercantile Company operated a large mercantile store, cotton gin and farm land. Originally the major crop was cotton. This operation was carried on by Cap Wilmans and Dorsey Wilmans. It is now carried on by J. E. Wilmans and Dorsey Wilmans, Jr., sons of Dorsey. They still operate the store, cotton gin and farm.

The farming operation has changed considerably and now includes, in addition to cotton, rice and cattle. Incidentally, Mrs. Lucy Freeman, widow of S. W. Freeman, former advertising manager of The Numismatist, is the daughter of Dorsey Wilmans, Sr.

From Matt H. Rothert, ANA LM 219
Camden, Arkansas

....the Wilmans Mercantile Company is owned and operated by the family of Mrs. Lucy Freeman (S. W.'s widow). I have a complete set of these tokens and they were issued in the following denominations: 5, 10, 25 and 50 cents, and 1, 5, and 10 dollars. Freeman had said that they were issued from about 1910 to 1934, but that most were destroyed and are fairly scarce today.

Sanborn, Iowa

Obverse: in four lines, GENERAL MERCHANDISE / D. & E. / GROCERY / SANBORN, IOWA.

Reverse: in three lines, GOOD FOR / 50 ¢ / IN TRADE.

Metal: aluminum. Size: 18 (29mm).
Border: no. 4; edge, no. 1. Issued: about 1930. Rarity: 5.

This token is unusual because the town of Sanborn is not listed in any of the writer's atlases. Any information, either on the token or D & E Grocery, will be appreciated.

Fred Lange, Moorestown, N. J., writes, "Sanborn, Iowa, O'Brien Co., northern part of county, 1901 population - 1247, 1921 - 1497, 1960 - 1323, on Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul RR. Zip code 51248."

Adds Don Watts, ANA 32267, "Sanborn, Iowa, is very much alive and kicking. It is a very common token." The rarity should be reduced to R1.

So much for Diaz, Arkansas, and Sanborn, Iowa, perhaps a few mavericks listed next month, will bring equally interesting results.

Pre-Registration and Tour Information

Tour Chairman Fred Zell has released information on the various tours planned for the 78th anniversary convention of ANA. The entire convention program is scheduled for publication in The Numismatist prior to the convention, August 12 through 16, at the Philadelphia Sheraton. However, since the tours must be limited in size, an advance publication is presented here to insure members the opportunity to make reservations in time.

Pre-registration is a must for anyone who does not wish to be delayed on opening day. Dealers who have been accepted by the ANA bourse committee are automatically registered, but no others. Dealers' assistants must pre-register, or be prepared to wait in long lines before they enter the bourse room.

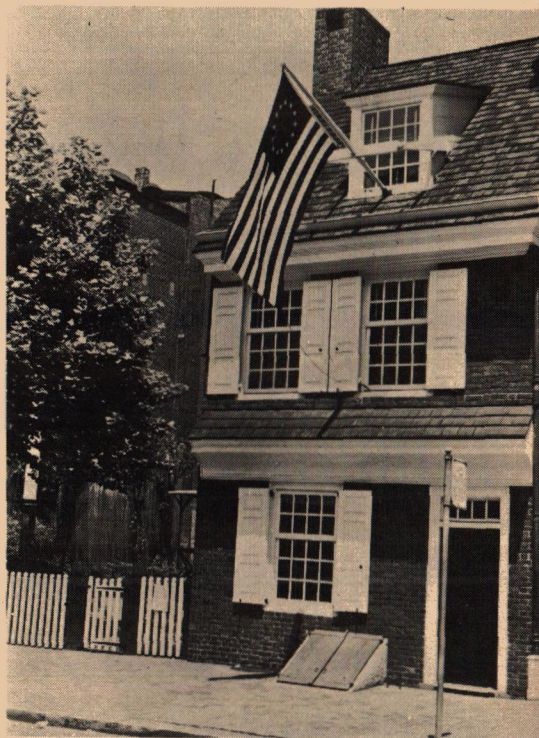

Exhibitors also must pre-register, or be prepared for the same wait in line before they may enter the exhibit area to set up. Use of pre-registration forms and payment at this time will help avoid delays when you arrive. No pre-registrations can be accepted after July 31, 1969.

Space will necessarily be limited on many of the tours, so decide which ones interest you and either clip the form at the close of this article or send for an official pre-registration form should you wish to avoid cutting your magazine. Send it along with your check payable to "ANA 78th Anniversary Convention" and mail to Daniel J. Lorden, P. O. Box 5874, Roxborough Station, Philadelphia, Pa. 19128.

Apollo 8 Issue by Werner Graul

The German firm of Aureus Magnus, Vingerstrasse 11, Munich, has issued a commemorative medal noting the space achievements of Apollo 8. Struck in pure silver and added to their continuing series of Argentei medals, it is available in both small (35mm) and large (50mm) sizes. The obverse shows astronauts Borman, Anders and Lovell with the Latin inscription, LUNAM CIRCUMIERUNT; the reverse shows a close up of the moon, the earth in the distance and the appropriate dates.

Old Red Books, Anyone! Blue Ones, Too

Numismatic Digest publisher, Richard Hyde, has announced a temporary suspension of his coin publication as he resettles in California. His former offices were in Denver, Colorado. Hyde, while in Denver, not only published Numismatic Digest, formerly Western Coin Collector, but operated a coin and stamp distributorship and an electronics firm under the banner of Hydelco.

In disposing of his numismatic supplies, Hyde donated a number of surplus redbooks and bluebooks to the Library of the American Numismatic Association. The books, officially titled, A Guide Book of United States Coins and Handbook of United States Coins, respectively, are edited by R. S. Yeoman and published by Whitman Publishing Division of Western Publishing Company, Racine, Wisconsin. In addition to these, Hyde also donated a number of other reference works that will be added to the library shelves.

The bulk of the red and bluebooks are of the 1965 edition, over 300 in all. These in turn are being offered to members at their original issue price of $1.75 and $1.00 respectively.

What can one do with a 1965 edition redbook, or bluebook? For one, some collectors need them to complete the series, others will find them handy references cataloguing the height of the coin speculation craze of a few years ago, and then many collectors find that these books make handy check lists for cataloguing their collections. These books do have a use to collectors and the library is offering you an opportunity to obtain copies for your use. A very few of the redbooks go back through to the 12th edition. These have been retired from the library shelves and are also available at $1.75 each. A few bluebooks go back through 1963, and these may be ordered while the supply lasts at $1.00 each. This is an ideal opportunity made possible by the generosity of a fellow member to complete your collection of coin references.

This month also finds donations by Dr. Warren A. Lapp, Gordon Medcalf, Walter Audubon, R. J. Balbaton, Mrs. Sadie J. Shiner, Thomas Becker, Admiral O. H. Dodson, and William Anton, Jr.

Plus donations for the library from Wesley Alonso, Lester S. Wright, Mrs. Erma C. Stevens, Sven-Olaf Johansson, and Mrs. Norman E. Hathaway. Commercial firms and clubs donating to the library included the Red Rose Coin Club, the French Mint, B. A. Seaby Ltd., Regency Coin and Stamp Co., Malter-Westerfield Publishing Co., and the Lombardo Mint.

The Whole Story

THE COIN MAKERS by Thomas W. Becker. 178pp. Illustrated. Hard cover. Doubleday & Company, Inc., Garden City, New York. $6.95.

The days of great initiative when one wanted something and it was unobtainable, and rather than do without, one made it for himself, has long since passed. Or has it?

When Tom Becker wanted a book on the story of coinage and couldn't find one that told the story in one volume, he proceeded to write his own. He did a beautiful job.

The book is more a survey than a systematic accounting of the history of coinage. The Coin Makers is intended not solely for the benefit of numismatists, but for everyone who likes to read. If the book falls into the hands of the latter group, the hobby will gain many converts.

Becker tells how the idea of coinage developed and explains in easily read, and greatly enjoyed detail, the methods used to make coins over the centuries. It begins with the hammers and anvils of the ancient Greeks and continues right up to the superpresses capable of rolling some ten thousand coins per minute — equipment yet to be installed in any operating mint.

The most remarkable feature of this book, one readily noticeable and commented on by all reviewers, is the variety of illustration, for in addition to dozens of photos of actual coins, there are reproductions of woodcuts and engravings from old books, letters and documents from official archives, and frescoes and wall paintings of mintage scenes. Museums around the world have contributed illustrations of tools, ancient statues, carved columns, and other works of art, that are related in some manner to the history of making coins. Reproduced in full color are a medieval stained glass window, a page from an illuminated manuscript, oil paintings and other interesting items not usually found in a coin book.

Faithful readers of The Numismatist recall the thoroughness of articles submitted by Becker. He'll not disappoint any of you. — ECR.

From the Commonwealth to Now

ENGLISH PROOF AND PATTERN CROWN-SIZE PIECES, 1658-1960, by Howard W. A. Linecar and Alex G. Stone. 116 pages. Illustrated. Hard cover. Spink & Son Ltd., 5-7 King Street, London, S.W.1, England. $12.50

Linecar and Stone, two well recognized numismatists, have teamed to catalogue in a logical manner all the crown size pattern and proof coins of England. They have brought together data that was scattered in hundreds of auction and sale catalogues, and from as many books. They have done well in bringing order to a complex subject.

The crowns are listed chronologically by British monarch beginning with the Cromwells and the Commonwealth (1658) and ending with those issues of Queen Elizabeth II. The crowns of each monarch are attributed by number; numbers which some day should be accepted as the standard reference.

Data given for each pattern or proof crown includes either a photograph or line sketch; a complete description of the obverse and reverse; the metallic composition; general comments in regards to scarcity; and a listing of the various sales and prices realized for the particular crown in question. Their task was no small one. — Jerry Remick.

Fund Raiser

INFLUENCIA DE PLATA GRUESA by Barbara C. Walrafen. 24 pp. 1 plate. Paper cover. Verne R. Walrafen, P. O. Box 1751, Topeka, Kansas 66601. By donation.

This paper was researched and written under the title, Money Used in the China Trade, by Barbara Walrafen a few months before her death in 1966. It is a study, written in English, of the considerable influence that the silver coinage of the Spanish colonies, especially Mexico, had upon world trade.

Her husband, Verne, took the liberty of editing, illustrating, and printing it in the hope that others would find it of interest. He will be rewarded. It is an excellent study.

Walrafen limited publication to 200 copies, and this was earmarked for the membership of the Azteca Numismatic Society. A special second printing of 100 copies was produced for the American Numismatic Authentication Trust (ANAT). A copy will be sent to anyone who, upon making a donation to ANAT, encloses a request for it and 3 six-cent stamps. Only the first 100 requests can be filled. Donations should be sent to ANAT, c/o Virgil Hancock, P. O. Box 936, Bellaire, Texas 77402, but requests for the book should go to the publisher. — PR.

Good Goethe

GOETHE'S ITALIAN RENAISSANCE MEDALS by Edward Gans. 28 pp. 16 plates. Hard cover. Malter-Westerfield Publishing Co., 3051 Briand Ave., San Diego, Cal. 92122. $7.50.

This is the first republication of an essay in the Jenaische Allgemeine Literatur-Zeitung by J. W. Goethe and Heinrich Meyer in 1810. The introduction with supplemental comments is by Edward Gans and the original translation by Max Knight. Eight plates of original medals owned by Goethe and eight plates of medals discussed by Goethe and photographed from the collection of the British Museum, London, complement the essay.

An outstanding collection of Italian Renaissance medals was Goethe's pride. This is an account of that collection, with photographs of the finest specimens. It includes a reprint of Goethe's own article on the subject with an English reprint. This beautiful book is of interest to students of Goethe, as well as the Renaissance historians and collectors of medals. — PR.

Cold Cash

ISLENZKAR MYNTIR 1969 by Finnur Kolbeinson. 16 pp. Illustrated. Paper cover. Frimerkjamsstodin, P. O. Box 78, Reykjavik, Iceland. $1.00.

Although published in Danish, pictures are pictures, and figures are figures, so the average collector should have little difficulty with this catalogue. Listed are all the coins issued by the Icelandic State Treasury and the Central Bank of Iceland, the latter coming into being in April of 1968.

Values are given (for both uncirculated and V. to V.F.) and so are the mintages. The current edition lists two pages of medals and the author notes that this will be expanded with future editions which will also include Icelandic paper money. The second edition is not expected until 1970 or 1971, so, unless you have a lot of patience, you'll be adding both editions to your library. — PR.

THE COIN TYPES OF THE INDO-GREEK KINGS, 256-54 B.C., by A. K. Narain. Reprint. 48pp. Map. Paper cover. Argonaut Inc., 737 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611. $3.00.

The Ancient Coin Club of America, believing that the availability of numismatic literature of high caliber is necessary for the progress of numismatic and historical studies, has provided funds for the amount necessary for the reprinting of this monograph as a service to the international family of scholars and others who are studying Hellenistic history, art and numismatics.

Professor Narain, head of the department of Ancient Indian History, Banaras Hindu University, is considered the world's most respected authority on the history of the Greeks in Bactria and India. This new edition of his work has been enlarged by the addition of genealogical charts, indices of the coin inscriptions, both in Greek and Prakrit, maps, charts, and notes are aimed to help the numismatist to identify easily the issues of each Indo-Greek king.

Narain's work is actually the key for the study of Indo-Greek history and numismatics. Regrettably the coins are not illustrated, but he did succeed to provide a working list and guide for the identification of numismatic material published in the basic reference catalogues of Indo-Greek coinage, and as such his work becomes an indispensable and most important element in every numismatic library. — PR.

And Now the Modern

THE COINAGE OF MODERN GREECE, CRETE, THE IONIAN ISLANDS AND CYPRUS by S. Gardiakos. 96 pp. Illustrated. 16 plates. Hard cover. Argonaut Inc., 737 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611. $7.50.

Countless books have been written about the coins of ancient Greece, but for the occasional listing in over-all books on modern world coins, Greece has been like a country that didn't exist.

Now, for the first time, a book has been published that covers the subject of modern coins of the Greek-language area and the first list of issues and varieties of their types. Gardiakos' disciplined research is more than evident through the maps, tables, and illustrations of the coins that clearly explain the significance of this specialized reference text, making this a must for the collector and modern historian. — PR.

May 21 - June 21

The chief characteristic of this sign is over-abundant intellectual energy. This causes impatience with duplication and a craving for diversity. Gemini is the lecturer who shares his knowledge and his collections with other numismatists. He can speak on a variety of subjects.

Old Time Satire

The satirical tokens and medals produced from 1896 to 1900, known as Bryan Money, form quite a contrast to the comparative medals produced by silversmiths. Almost 150 different varieties of humorous inscriptions and designs have been found in contrast to the 10 varieties of coin silver cartwheels. The majority are cast rather than struck in cheap type metals or compositions of lead and aluminum. One needed no talent of workmanship, but rather the inclination, time, and materials. Some of the more popular issues were even crudely copied and imitated, thus creating more varieties.

A few of the popular slogans of the times were 16 to 1, NIT, In God We Trust, Free Coinage, In McKinley We Trust—In Bryan We Bust, and are found on the satirical issues. Since a Bryan dollar represented 53 cents, In God We Trust (for the other 47 cents) was implied. Many of these were so similar to our silver dollar that they were an infraction on the laws relating to counterfeiting. It is indeed interesting to note that in some parts of the Country the infractions of the law were tolerated while in others they were prohibited by confiscating the issues as well as the machinery used to produce them.

One of the better struck issues in white metal, which is 45 mm, shows a donkey-headed goose with P O P on its body. To the right in the field is "IN BRYAN WE TRUST" and the inscription around is "UNITED SNAKES OF AMERICA". The reverse gives the denomination as "ONE DAM" and above states "FREE SILVER" with the date "1896" at the bottom. These were supposedly struck by the firm of Childs & Co. in Chicago. One variety is 3 mm in thickness while another is only 2½ mm. in thickness with a reeded edge.

Current Strikes —

Each year, the Sherritt Mint issues a medallion commemorating a pioneer achievement in Western Canada. The 1966 issue featured Anthony Henday, the pioneer fur trader in Alberta. In 1967, Henry Kelsey was chosen as the first explorer and trader into the Canadian prairies. The 1968 medallion marked the development 60 years ago by Charles Edward Saunders of early ripening Marquis wheat, which resulted in Canada becoming the producer of vast quantities of high quality wheat, and was a major contribution to feeding the world. The Sherritt issue was struck to coincide with the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization's coin plan to issue currency promoting national and world food development. The 1968 Saunders / Marquis medallion is available from the Sherritt Mint, Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta in solid nickel and sterling silver; costs are $2.50 and $7.50 respectively.

The Sherritt Mint also struck the Bank of Lebanon's 1 pound FAO commemorative, and copies of this coin are available directly from Sherritt at a cost of $1.50 each in uncirculated condition.

Other Sherritt Mint medallions include: the British Metal Corporation Limited's 50th anniversary medallion. Struck in pure nickel, 37mm in diameter, 3,000 were issued for company distribution and 300 set aside for general sale to collectors. The obverse bears the company's trade mark; the reverse the dates 1918/1968. Available from Sherritt at $3.50.

Coins Found!

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has requested the assistance of ANA in locating the rightful owners of a hoard of coins recently recovered by the bureau. There were over 1400 coins in the hoard, plus a few pieces of foreign currency, a number of U.S. and Canadian coin folders, and a few rolls of U.S. and Canadian coins. Any person who has reason to believe that the above mentioned coins might have been taken from them are asked to contact their nearest FBI office.

Changing Faces

Daniel Fearon, Sotheby's of London's coin expert, has arrived in New York to start a new coins and medals department at Parke-Bernet Galleries, Sotheby's American affiliate. Although only 24-years old, he has had considerable experience with North America. He catalogued the sale at Parke-Bernet in 1967 of the Treasure of the Spanish Main, comprised of objects recovered off the Florida coast from wrecks of a Spanish treasure fleet sunk in a hurricane in 1715.

Roland W. Finner, ANA 20475, has joined the staff of Krause Publications, Iola, Wisconsin. The former assistant director of news and publicity for Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota, is a nationally recognized news photographer and has been active in organized numismatics in Minnesota. ### A Museum That Travels

In most places, young Americans travel to museums, but in Detroit, Michigan, things are a little different — the museum travels to the visitors.

It's the Mobile Money Museum, operated by the National Bank of Detroit. It is trucked from school to school and at each school, classes take turns visiting the many exhibits. A guide explains each of the displays.

Most of the exhibits are either coins or currency, all have been prepared by the staff of the museum headquartered in Detroit. Coins cover the full range, from foreign to U. S., from the biblical period to modern times. Odd and curious monies have always appealed to children, and these have not been overlooked, either.

If your school is within the area served by the National Bank of Detroit, have your principal write Charles R. Hoskins, director, The Money Museum, National Bank of Detroit, Woodward at Fort, Detroit, Michigan 48232. It may be too late for this school year to schedule a visit, but he may be able to complete arrangements for a visit next fall.

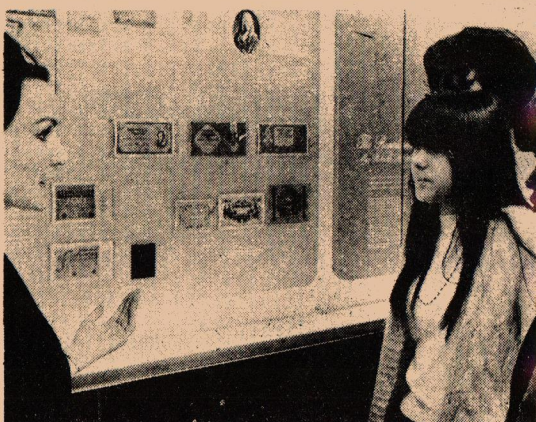

In the meantime, should your summer schedule permit a visit to Detroit, by all means visit the Money Museum. It is an experience that will long be remembered.

The moving money museum may well visit your school someday, if you are in the service area of the National Bank of Detroit.

Each visitor receives a thorough explanation of the significance of the coins on display.

Young Americans learn not only how money is used, but the story that it tells, too.

Tel Philadelphiaviv Sister Cities Honored

Independence Hall, Philadelphia, was the scene of a ceremony recently marking the unique "independence city" kinship between Philadelphia and Tel Aviv — Yafo, Israel. In addition to being "sister cities," each is the birthplace of its nation's independence. At the ceremony on April 21, Mayor James H. Tate, of Philadelphia, received from Yissakhar Ben-Yaacov, Israel's consul general, a specially struck gold specimen of the "Sisters Cities of Independence" medal is being issued to mark Israel's 21st anniversary. A similar gold medal was presented to the mayor of Tel Aviv — Yafo.

The Tel Aviv side of the medal portrays the emblem of the city — a lighthouse with arched entrance symbolic of the city as the gateway to the land of Israel. Around the rim appears the legend, "Tel-Aviv — Yafo, Birthplace of Israel Independence — 5708." The 5708 is the Hebrew year corresponding to the year of the birth of the state of Israel in 1948.

The Philadelphia side of the medal bears a rendering of the tower of Independence Hall and the legend, "Philadelphia, Birthplace of American Independence — 1776." The medal is larger than a silver dollar.

Struck by the Franklin Mint, it was issued by the Journal of Israel Numismatics and collectors may obtain further information from the Journal, 866 United Nations Plaza, Suite 4011, New York, N. Y. 10017.

UNITED STATES

At Ease

The Treasury Department recently announced a revision of gold coin import regulations to permit imports of gold coins minted prior to 1934 without license.

Relaxation of the licensing requirement was effective April 26 and was made to remove an inconsistency in regulations on imported pre-1934 gold coins, which generally had to have licenses, and those regularly traded within the United States.

Gold coins minted during or after 1934, however, may be imported only with a license from the Director, Office of Domestic Gold and Silver Operations, Treasury Department," Washington, D. C. Such licenses are issued only for rare and unusual coins of recognized special value to collectors. Importation of gold coins minted in 1960 or afterwards still will not be licensed.

Before this change in the regulations, all coins made prior to April 5, 1933 could be freely bought, sold, and held within the United States. However, only rare and unusual gold coins could be imported and then only pursuant to a specific license. Under this standard, certain coins minted before 1934 did not qualify for import even though they were freely traded in the domestic market. With the change in the regulations, any gold coin may be imported which can now be legally traded within the United States.

The amendments will simplify existing restrictions on numismatists while continuing to serve the basic purpose of the Gold Regulations. The current licensing policy

THE Jewish heritage is a universal heritage. Its threads are woven into the tapestry of man's progress. Its highlights form a dramatic pattern of their own. From the time of Abraham, the history of the Jewish people has been recorded in many forms . . . inscribed in clay tablets, hand-lettered on papyrus and parchment scrolls, printed in books. Now, with the creation of The Medallion History of the Jewish People, a new and unique record has been added. Here, for those of all faiths who enjoy history in the fullest sense, is a panorama of four thousand years, captured by the medallist's art.

Minting of the Medallion History of the Jewish People will be by the Franklin Mint—the world's foremost private mint—assuring uncompromising standards of excellence. This unique medallion chronicle will be elegantly housed in a collector's bookshelf portfolio.

For the creation of The Medallion History of the Jewish People, the Judaic Heritage Society has brought together a distinguished group of historians to serve as its Advisory Board. They have responded enthusiastically to the challenge of encompassing the scope of Jewish history in 120 subjects, the number of years in the lifetime of Moses. In continuing conference over many months, these distinguished historians have selected the subjects for this medallion series with the highest regard for historical authenticity.

Masterpieces in painting and sculpture have served as a source of inspiration for many of the subjects in the series. (The influence of Rembrandt is seen in the Abraham medal, designed by Oscar Harris and sculpted by Gilroy Roberts.)

The subjects of The Medallic History of The Jewish People will include . . .

The Land—from earliest prophecy to modern fulfillment;

The People—from Abraham to Einstein;

Their Struggle—from the Philistines to the Six-Day War;

Their Creativity—from the psalms of David to the paintings of Chagall.

120 medals will be created with their subjects in chronological sequence, beginning with the patriarch Abraham. Two medals will be struck each month, for 60 months, from engraved steel dies of the highest quality. Each medal will be in your choice of Solid Platinum, Sterling Silver or Solid Bronze. Each will feature a brilliant proof-quality finish which reflects the finest application of the minting art. Each medal will be hallmarked and numbered on its edge and will be issued in a 39-millimeter size—slightly larger than a silver dollar.

The face of each medal will be devoted entirely to art. The other side of each medal will bear a commentary portrayed in the manner of inscription in stone.

Numbered and hallmarked Limited Edition Proof Sets will be available exclusively to Advance Subscribers. Each Advance Subscriber may choose the metal in which his personal set will be minted—Solid Platinum at $900.00 per medal, Sterling Silver at $9.50 per medal or Solid Bronze at $3.50 per medal.

To assure rarity, the number of Proof Sets produced will exactly equal the number of Advance Subscriptions postmarked by June 15, 1969 (including a total of no more than 20 honorary subscriptions). Subscriptions are limited to one set per person. No additional Proof Sets will be produced for future sale.

For each Proof Set, a series of deluxe medal display pages will be provided, together with a matching protective slipcase covering. Appropriate reference literature, relating to the medals, will be provided for each subscriber.

The acquisition of this first and only comprehensive history of the Jewish people to be created in medallic art form is a unique opportunity. It offers artistic beauty, historical significance, intrinsic value and an excellent potential for increased worth based on genuine rarity. To assure your subscription, act now, since only applications postmarked by June 15, 1969, can be accepted.

UGANDA

FOOD IS A WORLD PROBLEM

With a rapidly exploding population and a gradual shrinking land base for food production, the whole of humanity faces a food problem.

HUNGER IS REAL

Malther's dire predictions may not come to pass in its entirety but he was near enough right that ONE HALF of the people of the world go to sleep hungry every night.

THE NEED IS GREAT

The problem of hunger and underdevelopment is of such scope that any solution will require the concerted effort of all willing nations over the period of several decades.

BUT A START IS BEING MADE

Many countries throughout the world have joined the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) in issuing coins with a theme featuring food and agriculture to combat hunger. All coins are available by subscription to the FAO Coin Album, in a strictly limited edition of only 20,000 albums.

THE PROCEEDS WILL COMBAT HUNGER

The cooperating nations will use their seigniorage profits to alleviate hunger directly. The United Nations will use its share of the proceeds in research in food production.

ELEVEN DIFFERENT COUNTRIES ARE REPRESENTED IN THE FAO COIN ALBUM

Included in the first two pages are 8 commemorative coins of the Vatican City; two from the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, and one each from Vietnam, Burundi, Nepal, Lebanon, Uganda, Sudan, Bolivia, Ceylon and Syria. Three of the coins in this first issue are of silver. Sixty other countries are in various stages of consideration. The album is designed to include additional pages from other countries as they become available at a cost of between $8.00 and $12.00 depending on number of coins per page.

A BONANZA FOR NUMISMATISTS

All of the coins issued in the FAO Coin Plan are new issues and types . . . a must for type collectors!

VATICAN

THE UNITED NATIONS FAO HAS APPOINTED PARAMOUNT

Paramount has an allocation which is limited to only 18,000 coin albums for the distribution in North America.

RAPID SELLOUT IS EXPECTED

The issue of FAO Coin Albums is strictly limited to 20,000 albums. Compare this with the over three million 1969 U. S. Proof Sets which were sold out in six days and it is readily understandable to expect a rapid sellout on the FAO Coin Albums. If you want to be one of the participants in this program send in your order immediately!

NIXON MEDAL

is 32nd in Presidential Series

Presidential Art Medals, Inc. of Englewood, Ohio is pleased to announce the 32nd in their widely acclaimed Presidential Art Medals series, honoring President Richard M. Nixon. The obverse side depicts a full portrait of the 37th President, while the reverse side presents the Presidential Seal with the dates of office set in relief. Medal size is  $1\frac{1}{4}$  inch in diameter.

The detailed likeness of President Nixon is the work of famed sculptor Ralph J. Menconi of Pleasantville, New York. He was the President's personal choice of a sculptor for the Inaugural Medal, which sold out in the 15,000 piece silver limited edition. Mr. Menconi is well known to numismatists for his work on the Presidential Series, Statehood Series, Signers of the Declaration of Independence Series, and the four assassinated Presidents medal, a medallion art rarity. The John F. and Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Medals as well as the exceptionally high relief Sir Winston Churchill Medal were also the work of Menconi.

All medals for Presidential Art are struck by Medallic Art Company of New York, the foremost firm in the field of bas-relief art medals.

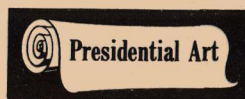

The Richard M. Nixon Medal is issued as follows:

- ☐ 25 pieces serially numbered Platinum (pure). Price upon request.
- ☐ 6,500 pieces serially numbered pure silver (.999+) ... $11.00 each.
- ☐ Unnumbered antique bronze ... $2.75 each. Ohio residents add 4% state sales tax.

The President Nixon medal can be ordered directly by mail with complete confidence. Please enclose money order or check with your order.

Write for the Presidential Art catalog. Send twenty-five cents (refunded with your first order).

RARE HAWAIIAN COINS AT DISCOUNT PRICES

Low mintage. Listed in the Red Book. Many melted, especially dollars of which over 400,000 were melted, according to the records at San Francisco. Many additional coins of each denomination were lost to the sea during a revolt by the people against the government in 1893. Few were left. In fact — during our visit to Hawaii we searched the Islands to locate Hawaiian coins and discovered to our amazement that few people living on the Islands even knew that these coins existed. Most inhabitants were amazed when we showed them coins struck by the U. S. Mint for circulation in Hawaii. They are not only no longer in circulation, but few Hawaiians realize that at one time they had their own coinage. Check your Red Book — Excellent investment potential per dollar invested.

IT'S TAKEN US 66 YEARS TO BECOME NUMISMATISTS!

...not because we're slow
but because we're careful!

HARMER, ROOKE has been an internationally known name in philately since 1903. Our reputation for expertise and professional integrity is impeccable. We're careful! Careful with material entrusted to us for auction, appraisal or direct sale. Careful to make the descriptions in our auction catalogs meticulously accurate. With a reputation as good as ours, we're extremely careful not to hurt it.

Now, HARMER, ROOKE NUMISMATISTS, Ltd. brings to the numismatic world the same expertise and integrity under the guidance of D. Paul Taxay, internationally known numismatist, author of widely acclaimed numismatic texts and former Curator of The Chase Manhattan Bank's Money Museum, and Wm. Thomas Anton, Jr. With the assistance of Donald D'Amato and Walter Breen we've assembled an incomparable staff of numismatic experts. To authenticate questionable material through X-Ray Spectroscopy & Defraction and to make further analysis of metal, paper and ink, a $75,000 electronic laboratory (the only one of its kind in the world), is maintained at our New York headquarters.

We're ready!...without fear of hurting our great reputation. Whether buying or selling...you'll enjoy dealing with HARMER, ROOKE.

We are now accepting consignments of choice

Eliminate The Middle Man SELL YOUR COINS DIRECT TO ME

WHY?

Because I have an immediate sale for almost any type of Numismatic Material... whether rare gold or common bags and rolls. Chances are, if you sold your coins to almost anyone else in the past five years, all, or at least part of them, ended up in my hands here in Dallas, Texas.

WHY?

Because my mailing list, made up solely of established customers, numbers over 150,000 active buyers. This represents the largest single buying force in Numismatics today. If you decide to sell, write me, or better yet call me. If your collection merits, I, or a member of my experienced staff can be in your city within 24 hours. In any case you will receive a prompt and courteous reply to your inquiry. Perhaps you haven't yet heard of us and there's a valid reason. I have built the largest Retail Coin Business in the World by placing advertisements in national publications... TV Guide, House and Garden, Better Homes and Gardens, Popular Science, Sports Afield and a dozen other magazines... rather than in numismatic periodicals, hoping to induce others to take up the hobby you and I enjoy so much.

If you have numismatic material for sale, please contact me. This is the best time of all!

MONEY LAB

1954

Washington, D. C., researchers at work in the U. S. Government "money laboratory" are picturesquely described by Harry M. Schwalb, science editor, in the December 1954 issue of The Numismatist. Here is your opportunity to purchase this issue or others you may have missed, or obtain the complete year to have bound.

Cost is 75c per copy when ordered singly, or $6.00 for the entire year, postpaid. Selected articles include:

JANUARY: "Introduction to East Roman Coinage," by Dr. John F. Lhotka, also in February, May, August, September and December issues.

FEBRUARY: "Are Coins Good Investments?" by A. M. Kagin.

MARCH: "Primitive Money of Africa," by Col. Phares O. Sigler, continued in April issue.

ANA HEADQUARTERS

The Wichita Coin Club has given ANA a supply of the 20th anniversary medal struck by the club to honor their founder and former general secretary of ANA, Lewis M. Reagan. Reagan's bust appears on the obverse and a bas-relief of Kansas adorns the reverse.

Struck in bronze by Medallie Art Company of New York, 44mm in size, the medal was sculptured by Edward R. Grove. A very limited supply remains.

newest and extremely practical coin holder.

Priced at $17.75

The size, 8" x 14" is perfect to place into the safety box! BVD HOLDERS are made to hold series that have been completed, so once you place your set in the holder, you need never reopen it. This adds to the permanence of your unit as the holders do NOT BECOME OBSOLETE.

Each holder is designed to serve as a display case with symmetrical lettering and overall compatible appearance. They are available in Black, White, Red, Green or Blue and fully imprinted to identify each set.

Among the current titles in stock are Lincolns dating from 1909-1934-D, 1935-1958-D, the Buffalo Nickel, Mercury Dime, Franklin, Walking Liberty, Commemoratives, Peace and Morgan Dollar Holders.

Our BVD holders protect against "underwear," over wear and any kind of wear. They give secure protection against fingerprints, blemishes and if you place one in a BANK VAULT DRAWER you have added security from "sticky" moisture in the air . . . and "sticky fingers".

Two authoritative Whitman coin books long accepted as standard references

Whitman's library of coin reference books, some 40 in all, is by far the largest of any numismatic publisher. Among these 40 books, two stand out as absolute necessities for the collector of United States coins. They are:

The Red Book

A Guide Book of United States Coins, by R. S. Yeoman, popularly known as the Red Book. Yearly editions provide continuously updated retail values of all U. S. coins since 1616.

The Blue Book

A Handbook of United States Coins, also by Mr. Yeoman, usually referred to as the Blue Book. The standard reference book for average prices dealers pay for your coins, with a new edition each year.

These two books, along with over 350 Whitman items for the coin collector, may be found at your dealer's store.

Whitman Hobby Products from WESTERN PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC.
